THE EARLY YEARS

The early years are an exciting time full of dreams and challenges. What do you do when you realize your child might need assistance?

THE SCHOOL YEARS

During the school years, children begin to develop important aspects of self-concept. One of the most important things you can do is be involved in your child's education.

THE TRANSITION YEARS

Formal transition planning for students with disabilities begins at the age of 14. It's important to pull together a strong transition team of specialists, educators, and representatives from supporting organizations.
